SCOPE OF THE JOURNAL

Vision Computing is a branch of artificial intelligence that focuses on providing computers with the functions typical of human vision. Due to recent advances made in technology, scientists have incorporate portable imagers into computer vision systems that can be connected via wireless networks. Advances in Vision Computing: An International Journal (AVC) is an open access, peer-reviewed journal that publishes articles which contribute new results in all areas of the advanced vision computing. The goal of this journal is to bring together researchers and practitioners from academia and industry to focus on understanding advances in vision computing and establishing new collaborations in these areas. Authors are solicited to contribute to the journal by submitting articles that illustrate research results, projects, surveying works and industrial experiences that describe significant advances in the areas of vision computing.

Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- Machine Vision
- Image Processing and Formation
- Document Imaging in Business
- Pattern Recognition
- Image and Video Understanding
- Applications and Services
- Motion, Tracking and Stereo Vision
- Biometrics
- Machine Intelligence
- Data structures and databases
- Multimedia
- Speech Recognition
- Computational Models
- Mobile Imaging
- Robotic Vision
- Vision-based human-computer interaction

Review Process

Submissions are accepted for review with the understanding that the same work has been neither submitted to, nor published in, another publication. Simultaneous submission to other publications will result in immediate rejection of the paper. Papers are not within the journal scope will be rejected immediately after the pre review process.

All manuscripts will be subject to a well established, fair, unbiased peer review and refereeing procedure, and are considered on the basis of their significance, novelty and usefulness to the Journals readership. The reviewing structure will always ensure the anonymity of the referees & it will be reviewed by 3 experts in the field. The review output will be one of the following decisions:

1. Accept
2. Accept with minor changes
3. weak Accept with major changes
4. Reject

The review process may take approximately two ~three months to be completed. The Editor reserves the right to reject a paper if it does not meet the aims and scope of the journal, it is not revised well
