AIRCC Publishing Corporation is an emerging peer-reviewed, academic publisher. AIRCC is a non-profit organization promoting Science and Engineering research worldwide without any discrimination.

AIRCC is planning to expand its robust open access journal presence across all areas of Science, Engineering and Medicine. We invite proposals for new journals that reflect our standards and protocols. If you would like to discuss starting a new journal, please email your formal proposal to jsecretary@airccse.com. If the proposal is accepted, we will start working with you on the new journal at the earliest.
